

see what we can do for you

stevenneill.co.uk is about quality, planning, creating, thinking, analysing, innovating and success in producing digital products and services.

Our focus is to help clients attract, convert and retain more customers. This is done using a combination of technologies and expertise. Our staff and consultants have a breadth of experience enabling us to operate in diverse markets.

We can provide a whole range of services, including:

- Search Engine optimization
- Web design
- Marketing campaign microsite
- Reliable hosting and registration
- Project Management
- Application development
- Database services

Contact us at info@stevenneill.co.uk for more information

Web design

Stevenneill.co.uk specialises in website design from conception to creation, developing high-end websites with strong visual appeal, and robust back-end coding and hardware. We will liaise directly with the client to bring the company's vision directly to the website.

Database Services

From designing databases, both logically and physically, we can provide the following:

- Analysis and optimisation
- Database tuning
- Data analysis
- Automation

Application Development

We can manage the whole development of an application, and provide the following:

- Advanced data analysis
- Periodic system reviews
- System redevelopment